

Plan for Dissemination 4

This website will be updated regularly. In addition, this website can become a forum for our national-level advisors to follow the course of the study as well as to establish contacts with their peers collaborating in the other countries. It will also be an important source of dissemination of the project findings to specialist and general publics and will provide a crucial means for receiving feedback.