

Manlio Cinalli

Dr Cinalli will work alongside with other established researchers who have extensively focused on issues of unemployment, participation and exclusion of young people. Anne Muxel (CNRS) is Research Director at CEVIPOF, specialized in research on younger generations and their attitudes to and relationship with politics. She has been project leader for the French part of the EUYOUNPART project (5th EU FP), developing high-quality instruments for the comparative measurement of political participation of young people in Europe. Elisabeth Dupoirier (FNSP) is Research Director at CEVIPOF, where she focuses on issues of political participation and opinion. She has been project leader for the French part of the CIVGOV project (5th EU FP), focusing on organized civil society and European governance. Apart from these key team members, other researchers specialized in issues of unemployment, exclusion and integration of young people will also be associated to the project on an ad hoc basis depending on their specific expertise.
